CARNIVAL IN BRAZIL!

In February in my home country of Brazil, we celebrate Carnival! During Carnival, many Brazilians go into the streets in fancy dress and they dance. We also play music and have a great time. Carnival doesn't only happen in Brazil. Many countries around the world have a carnival. But our carnival is the largest one. Almost five million people come out to celebrate in my home town of Rio de Janeiro! There is a lot of dancing during Carnival because the samba schools take part in parades. A samba school is a school where you learn how to dance the samba. The samba is a type of Brazilian dance. It's very popular in Brazil, but it's actually from Africa. During Carnival, the dancers wear amazing costumes and dance the samba through the streets. There are different schools, and the best costumes and dancers win prizes. My sister does the samba during Carnival, but I just go in fancy dress. This year I'm going as a boxer. I've got a cool pair of red gloves and some boxing shorts ready. It's going to be great fun!
